

Northwestern CC Application Process (read to the end)

Fill out the application. Northwestern Admission site: <https://www.nwcc.edu/admissions/>. You can choose here if you want to start working on your Associate degree or start with just a few classes. The process is slightly different depending on what you choose, so you can explore either option.

Fill out all required information in the online form. (Choose the academic program you will apply to by browsing their list: <https://www.nwcc.edu/programs/>.)

Once you have submitted the online form, email your counselor to ask them to send your transcript to Northwestern. If you haven't signed a transcript release form, you and your parent or guardian will need to sign that to give the school permission to release your transcript. You will need to upload any outstanding documents to the online application for Northwestern (this should be your transcript and immunization form, which your doctor needs to sign and then you can upload). If you already have a copy of your transcript, you're free to upload it yourself.

NCCC will email you to let you know if you have been accepted. Once you are accepted you can schedule a virtual or in-person appointment with an advisor and register for classes.

The deadline to have everything set up (application, FAFSA, registering for classes) to be eligible for PACT (free community college) is July 15. Even if you miss this deadline, you can still attend Northwestern in the fall, just not under the PACT program.

Northwestern has In-Person Enrollment Days if you'd like to go there for assistance. You can register for the upcoming dates. If no dates are available, email admission for help.

FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid)

Northwestern Financial Aid page: <https://www.nwcc.edu/financial-aid/>. They link to the FAFSA and have a video with tips as well.
